PRESIDENT'S REPORT

ANNUAL GENERAL MEETING – MONDAY 14 MARCH 2022

Last year was a very difficult year for the TCA, its affiliates and members, clearly it was unlike 2020 as we did not suffer a shutdown of our activities. Nonetheless the various lockdowns and their varying requirements made it a challenge for organisers to be able to run events. Many times judges were cancelled on Fridays and clubs were desperately trying to get replacements. In the circumstances I would like to send a genuine shout out to everyone who helped.

The TCA itself was not as greatly impacted as we did not have to close our office as some of our interstate equivalents had to, although at times we could not admit visitors to the office.

During 2021 RAST advised us that we would have to vacate our office for redevelopments on the Showground. We were extraordinarily lucky to find suitable premises in Glenorchy with the big move happening mid-October. The premises have proved to be very suitable and the staff are very satisfied with the move.

We were also very lucky to have a small meeting room in the new premises and the library custodians have been very busy cataloguing our books and arranging them in the cabinets. Members may use the library by appointment. The room is also suitable for small meetings and several affiliates are using it for their meetings.

The Special General Meeting of Members to approve the new Constitution was held during the year and it was adopted by members. A heartfelt thank you to the small working party who guided the progress of this review. It was released in draft form three times for membership consultation and a thank you to everyone who contributed.

The next job is to review the regulations and arrangements have been made to progress this task.

The Treasurer's Report will be presented later in this meeting but we have finished in the black despite a reduction in income due to the 2020 fees also being held for 2021, the costs incurred in the move to Chapel Street and having to return a Cash Flow Boost to the Federal Government. The result can only be regarded as satisfactory.

The move to Pontville has bedded down well and the government has provided a grant for the concreting of the surface of the shed and general upgrading of the area. The shed seems to be the never ending story although we finally feel we may have this under control with the works finally to be finished by mid-year.

This facility will have been provided at no cost to Dogs Tasmania with costs being met by government grants and donations.

Unlike other states we were able to continue our judges training schemes with new judges being accredited in a number of disciplines. This would not have been possible without loads of assistance from volunteers, so again a big thank you.

I was reappointed Treasurer of ANKC in October which gives Tasmania a voice on the National Body Executive. The Board during the year unfortunately had to abort the development of a new business system when none of the tenders for the work were accepted as it was felt the cost was beyond our capacity to pay. The Board has adopted a policy of progressively updating the present system with a regular re-evaluation of the progress being made.

ANKC's Directors were aware of the great pressure being put on the dog fancy by various groups. It decided to engage specialists to present a new image of ANKC and its members. Dogs Australia was launched in November and regular promotions of the canine world will be commissioned. The unfortunate ban on British Bulldogs and Cavalier King Charles Spaniels in Norway recently has sparked considerable bad publicity which is subject to a current Dogs Australia PR campaign. A release of a promotion of Dogs Australia breeders will commence at the end of March.

We are keeping in contact with the Animal Welfare Advisory Committee as many states have been burdened with some very oppressive small companion animal legislation. We have been advised that there is currently no intention to introduce new controls although a normal five yearly review of the Act will take place in 2022. The advice to us is that it is considered that the present requirements are adequate but that compliance check is falling down. We will be given the opportunity to comment on the draft document once it is finalised. If we don't want the legislation to be changed to give the RSPCA and/or Councils greater powers we should look at developing a compliance regime of our own.

I have thanked a number of groups, in this report but in case I have missed anybody sincere thanks to all our volunteers. They give enormous amounts of their own time to enable our activities to continue. If we had to pay for the work they do, we would not have a sport.

In conclusion I would like to thank all Councillors for the work they too have put in during the year and the great support they have given me. I would also, on behalf of members, thank Rex Lowe for the efforts he has put in while on Council, not just in this stint but over many years previously, and welcome Roseanne McDade to Council.

It would also be remiss not to acknowledge the sterling efforts of Kerry, Judy and Debbie during 2021. The pandemic has caused a lot of additional work while reducing income. The result is a credit to them. I think we should also acknowledge the additional tasks they have taken on in the move to Pontville and more recently the electronic recording of show results. This certainly is not part of their job description and the time put in outside normal office hours is considerable.

Responding to Activists

STEPS FOR HANDLING CONFRONTATION AT AN EXHIBITION OR EVENT

Proudly show our practices are best practice	Regardless of the risk of confrontation, every exhibitor should proudly uphold the standards expected of us as loving dog owners and members of Dogs Tasmania and present our dogs and ourselves positively.
Advise the show or trial manager, call 000 if needed	Advise the event manager if you believe activists are present and they will advise the local police. If activists create a disruption or confrontation. call 000 immediately. If you call 000 clearly articulate the risk that the activists are posing: to yourself and others, the dogs' welfare, personal and venue property, etc.
Do not engage	Do not engage directly. Keep calm even if provoked and keep your distance if possible.
Ask them to leave	If activists enter the area you are using to house your dogs, speak with them politely to ask them to leave. Acknowledge their right to state their opinions in a lawful manner but ask that they respect your right to continue to look after your dogs' welfare in a safe manner without distress. Ask them to please leave the area and move to a space away from the dogs. They may not respond to the request, but it will make it clear they do not have permission to be there. Do not engage with them further.
Move yourself and your dogs to a safer position	Your safety and welfare and that of your dogs comes first. If activists won't leave, relocate to an area that is safer for you and your dogs.
Create a record	Video footage and photos taken on your phone of the above can be used by police. If there has been damage to property record the details and if possible wait until police have examined the scene before touching anything. Please always consider the safety of yourself and dogs when confronted with activists.

Dogs Australia's response in relation to a recent court decision in Norway

NORWEGIAN GOVERNMENT BANS BREEDING OF BRITISH BULLDOGS AND CAVALIERS

The recent court decision in Norway to ban the breeding of British Bulldogs and Cavalier King Charles Spaniels, has resulted in debate and concern that a similar situation could occur in Australia. The Fédération Cynologique Internationale (FCI), of which Dogs Australia is an Associate Member, has stated that:

The FCI community – which represents not less than 98 countries and thousands of breeders worldwide – truly hopes that the verdict would not provide a privileged position to the unregistered, backyard uncontrolled puppy farmers who perform their activity without making use of any of the available scientific methods aiming at improving the general health of dogs.

To the contrary, registered breeders, with the assistance of responsible veterinarians, have been adopting quite an opposite approach for decades, getting very good results in terms of health.

These sentiments reflect the approach taken by Dogs Australia/ANKC over many years. In response to media inquiries, we have formulated the following statements.

Do Dogs Australia currently hold any concerns over the breeding of 'flat-faced' dogs in Australia based on animal welfare?

We have concerns for all breeds of dogs, flat-faced or not. All breeds should be bred with due care to inherited diseases, especially where there are proven methods of disease testing whereby the incidence of severe disease can be minimised. This equally applies to flat-faced breeds and is based on animal welfare. Dogs Australia Breeders of British Bulldogs and Cavaliers use health testing regimes that ensure that breeding stock are suitable for breeding, as Australia has a large gene pool of both breeds, and other brachycephalic (flat-face) breeds.

What is Dogs Australia doing to improve the lives of dogs in Australia?

Dogs Australia breeders are bound by a Code of Ethics on frequency of breeding (basically one litter per year), maximum number of litters in the bitch's lifetime (six with the average bitch having three litters or less) and health testing for recognised diseases.

If breeds and their breeders operate outside of Dogs Australia control, there are usually no basic health testing requirements and no limits on frequency of breeding or litter numbers. The challenge in Australia is to sideline these breeders who do not address health and welfare in their breeding programs; their only motivation to breed is for a quick profitable sale. The health and heritable disease status of their breeding stock is not central to their business plan, many crossbreed to obtain exotic colours, which can introduce significant health problems into a breed. All breeders of dogs where heritable diseases have been identified should be compelled by legislation to conform to a breeding code of ethics as Dogs Australia breeders are.

Would Dogs Australia back a call for banning breeds on welfare grounds?

For several reasons, Dogs Australia does not see any need for breeding bans. This would not stop backyard breeders or puppy farmers, and where breeds have a large population, there is sufficient genetic variety to gradually breed away from diseases and structural abnormalities.

Each breed has within it a very wide range of structure, temperament, and health components. For the sake of a few severely affected individuals, why should the whole breed have to be banned. Our approach is to address the major problems, consistently remove any adversely affected individuals from breeding programs, and the breed can change over time to an overall healthier breed. With a large gene pool and access to DNA and other regimes to ensure the health of breeding stock, it has been proven that responsible breeders can reduce the incidence of heritable diseases.

Given the obvious 'line in the sand' approach taken by the Oslo District Court (which has the impact of significantly raising the profile of the welfare of certain breeds), in response to the concerns of Animal Protection Norway, where is the line for Dogs Australia on this issue?

The Norwegian response is a basic full stop. This should have been a considered response as mentioned previously, targeting specific diseases or construction issues, and giving breeders time (five to ten years minimum to improve breed averages, preferably longer). Many breeders have spent lifetimes preserving these breeds and need to be allowed to gradually adapt as breeds take generations to change without causing further conditions to occur due to a sudden narrowing of the gene pool. Outcrossing is of limited value unless to correct a fixed disease or an extremely limited gene pool such as numerically restricted breeds. Dogs Australia is confident that observing of the Breeding Codes of Ethics and using international diagnostic programs will ensure that people who purchase any breed, including brachycephalic breeds, from Dogs Australia breeders can be assured of a healthy, long-lived puppy.

Has enough been done in Australia – both about irresponsible and/or illegal breeders but also the actual welfare and health of breeds?

Dogs Australia has no control over rogue puppy farmers or backyard breeders. The problem in Australia is that state and territory legislation only targets responsible breeders who can be easily identified. The illegal breeders advertise on the Internet and are usually only contactable by mobile phone, which makes it virtually impossible for the regulators to find them; and they ignore government requirements to obtain a Breeders Identification Number because they know that they are untraceable, which means that there is no pressure on them to observe health and welfare issues regarding their breeding stock. We have well developed health testing schemes for hips, elbows, hearts, eyes, and DNA breed specific testing for a wide range of diseases. Some of these tests are national requirements for all litters bred (LRL's – litter registration limitations) where all parents must be health tested, as well as numerous additional health testing requirements within breed clubs.

Is the Respiratory Function Grading Scheme a thing in Australia? Or something similar? Is it of use?

Dogs Australia is licensed to the Kennel Club (UK)/Cambridge University Respiratory Function Grading Scheme. We have appointed Dr Arthur House, a Veterinarian Specialist in brachycephalic diseases to head the RFG Scheme in Australia; however, due to COVID restrictions in his home state, Victoria, the implementation has been delayed, but we expect to be underway shortly. There are pockets within several states where this testing is being done (unofficially at present). Dogs Australia would prefer the scheme to be official so the results are internationally acceptable. We feel this system is the best possible means of moving forwards in validating healthy breeding dogs within the brachycephalic breeds.

The TCA Inc offers a microchipping service throughout the state at a cost of $20 per dog/puppy (including lifetime registration on a nation-wide data base). Please contact the office for further details.

'Regulation 245.1 be amended to read:

A Steward may not steward in a ring while a dog owned or co-owned leased or co-leased by them is being exhibited.'

*G Parry/C Lowe – CARRIED

- The 2022 election of TCA Inc Councillors has been finalised with S Axton, P Hallam and S Eastley being returned and Mrs R McDade filling the other vacancy and that the only other nomination received was ineligible.
- Clubs constantly changing dates is a real problem, that they are given ample time before the Calendar of Events is published in the Gazette for the following year to get their dates in order but numerous requests for changes after publication are received and suggested that a fee be levied on any change to the published Calendar of Events.

'Any requests for changes of dates to the Calendar of Events received after 1 January each year be levied a $50 fee.'

*G Parry/C Lowe – CARRIED

T Luttrell voted against the motion.

Regulations introduced during COVID-19

The EO advised the meeting that there had been some discussion at the last meeting of Council that the regulations put in place to address issues raised by the Covid-19 pandemic be rescinded and suggested that it may be a little too premature to change these regulations back.

RESOLVED: 'The EO's suggestion be endorsed.'

Wearing Masks

C Lowe advised the meeting that she thought masks had to be worn outdoors if the 1.5 metre social distancing requirement could not be complied with.

The EO agreed to investigate the matter.
